Dedication

To our Mothers and Fathers, we the members of the class of 1954, sincerely dedicate this edition of the Charconge. Our parents were the first to start us up the long hill of education. They have been the ones who have given us love, devotion, patience and understanding. Now, that we have reached the top, we see still another hill more steep, which we must also climb. This one, by ourselves, realizing how much our parents have done for us.

As a tribute to you, our parents, we offer this Charconge, as a small token of love and appreciation.

Unfinished Business

As much as we would like to have all of our work behind us, we would feel totally lost and lonely if we had no unfinished business before us. Most of us are fully aware of this, but we dislike the continual daily pressures.

We resent doing things when we don't feel like doing them. We would rather take our own time and proceed at our own pace. If, however, that day of leisure ever comes when we have nothing we have to do, the chances are we'll have very little to show for what we did do.

Loafing and relaxation take their hold on us just as working does, so at times when nothing has to be done, nothing is about what gets done. Deadlines are deadly, but they do accomplish their purpose. The pressure that accompany deadlines are indispensable. Both the God-made and man-made mechanics of the universe work under pressures. Man is no different.

When folks want to put over a project, school, church, or community, they look for the businest person available. Experience has taught that busy people have learned how to get things done. These same people always have things ahead of them that they want to do.

When we reach the place when we have finished everything, we have either under-estimated our abilities or lost our interest in life. Let's always have some unfinished business.

Facing Up to Responsibilities

A majority of the young people graduating from our high school this year will take their place in the community. A small percentage will go on to other schools for more formal learning. How will those who are about to take their place in the community face up to their responsibilities? Responsibilities will be there.

Any community is just as strong and sound as the people in it. Good government, good schools, and a proper sense of responsibility for social welfare of those in need will now be apart of your problem.

You will be called upon to face obligations. The manner in which you face these obligations will determine your worth, and the worth of your community.

Dear Diary,

Once again the head-scratching problems and the responsibility involved in producing a yearbook has been capably managed by a staff of Seniors, under the direction of Mrs. Gennocro. They worked hard for the finished product — a book which will bring much enjoyment to all who will read it now, and then keep it as a record of memories. The members of the Charconge Staff and their respective positions were:

Editors: Elizabeth Chambers, Richard Kloska; Engraving: Connie Pallaria, Albert Craig; Art: Bill Hibbert, Theresa Mazza, John Kusky; Photography: Frank Matz, Catherine Brigich, Betty Lee; Write - Ups: Shirley Johnston, Lucille Parrino, Joyce Cowden, Dave Helfman, Tom Bartos, Helen Swontek, Alice Stewart; Typists: JoAnn Urbancic, Loretta Smiddle, Adelia Pleskovich, Rose Marie Progar.

Dear Diary,

Only through close budgeting, practical accounting and convincing salesmanship is it possible to finance a yearbook. The Charconge Business Staff, Senior students, under the guidance of Mrs. Anaston, put their Commercial training to practice, along with initiative and cooperation to successfully raise money for this yearbook. Advertising was employed by this group in selling the books to the students; much bookkeeping was needed in using the installment plan, which is popular in the school.

Dear Diary,

Three groups, which themselves are not clubs, but organizations which perform valuable services to the school are the Fire Wardens, Activities Council and Librarians.

The FIRE WARDENS are appointed by the administration, usually Junior and Senior boys. These boys are on duty during fire drills and in the event of a real fire. They open the exits and direct the students in leaving the building quietly and quickly.

The ACTIVITIES COUNCIL consists of sponsors of those organizations holding money-raising activities along with three student representatives, two Seniors and one Junior. The purpose of this council is to schedule clubs' and other school activities. They also decide upon such matters as the price of dance tickets and the hours for evening socials.

The LIBRARIANS, a group of Junior and Senior girls, under the direction of Miss Peacock, keep our library in operation. They are in charge of checking out and receiving books, repairing the books, collecting fines for overdue books and helping students locate desired books for reading or reference.

Student Council

Dear Diary,

The members of the Student Council are student elected representatives of home rooms and organizations. This year they had several discussion groups which studied the projects and activities of other school; thus, giving them ideas for improving our school citizenship and student council activities. They received many helpful suggestions from the Pennsylvania Association of Student Councils, to which they belong.

Each year the Student Council elects representatives to attend the Pennsylvania State Convention. This year the convention was held at West View; Alice Stewart was selected as a discussion group leader.

One of the council's projects, during the Christmas season, was collecting clothing for needy children. Another project was conducting the hall patrol for the school.

Dear Diary,

Once again, the Senior Tri-Hi-Y has proven to be one of the most active clubs at Chartiers. It is a Christian organization made up of Sophomore, Junior and Senior girls, advised by MissMumper. The idea of "pure thoughts, pure words, and pure deeds" is practiced in all the club activities.

Each month the girls carried out a service project. Some of these were: Children's Home Party, gifts to the County Home, State Welfare project, World Service project, Help Week, Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies. Two large annual projects sponsored by the club were Teen-Talk and Student Rule Day (page 41). To become better acquainted with the work of other Tri-Hi-Y clubs, the girls held a Y-Rally and sent delegates to Officers Training Conference.

For social activities, the Tri-Hi-Y held a Carol sing, square dance, Mother-daughter banquet, Secret Sister party and Buddy Night. (See page 53 for pictures of some of the club activities).

Hi-Y

Dear Diary,

The Hi-Y club is an organization dedicated to serving the church, school and community through high standards of Christian character. Membership consists of Sophomore, Junior and Senior boys, under the sponsorship of Mr. Berry.

This year the Hi-Y combined forces with the Senior Tri-Hi-Y to promote a Y Rally during the fall, a Halloween party for the children of the Washington County Children's home, the annual Teen-Talk discussion course, and Student Rule Day. The boys also sponsored a juke box dance, open to all students.

Albert Craig and Fred Sankey represented the Hi-Y at the Older Boys Conference in Pittsburgh; Ronald Likar and John Tershel at the Pre-legislative Assembly for Hi-Y Youth Government Program in Greensburg; and Kirk Brown and Ronald Likar at the Harrisburg Youth Government Program.

Junior Tri-Hi-Y

Dear Diary,

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y, an affiliate of the YMCA, has a membership of forty-two eighth and ninth grade girls, with Miss Karabuskin as advisor. Their purpose is "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character".

Most of the activities carried on by the club were those of service. The girls donated to the Tuberculosis and Red Cross drives, held a white gift program and sent gifts to the club's ward, Shirley Reynard.

But "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" was kept in mind with a juke box dance before Thanksgiving vacation, "The Turkey Hop."

DEAR DIARY,

The mixed chorus of 95 voices brings enjoyment to all through their singing. Under the direction of Miss Grable, the chorus rehearses selections which meet the various likes in music — often going from the serious heavy type of song to the light novelty. The members are selected from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes; qualifications being a good voice and an enjoyment in singing.

Performances this year were: the American Education Week Program, Christmas and Easter programs, Baccalaureate and the Spring Concert.

Several members participated in the Washington County Chorus. Carol Thompson and Gail Miller were selected as representatives to the district choral festival, which was held at Vandergrift.

Mr. Morford, the advisor, keeps the staff and paper running smoothly. Not only do these people gather and write-up the news for the paper, they also type, cut stencils, run off the pages, assemble the papers, and then distribute them to the students.

The appreciation of the staff's work is shown in the enjoyment the students get from reading each issue of their school paper.

Dear Diary,

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Chimento, the Chartiers band has carried on the tradition of fine musicianship and organization. Again this year the band added color and enthusiasm as they performed and drilled on the football field. Throughout the year the band played for pep meetings and other school programs, held a square dance, and sent delegates to district festivals. The majorettes performed at Pitt stadium.

The annual spring concert, "Music Americana", was enthusiastically received and it stamped this year's organization as a distinct credit to our school.

Dear Diary,

The Sub-Deb Club is a social organization for Sophomore, Junior and Senior girls. During the early fall these girls held their annual initiation. This provided amusement for the entire student body as the new members went through their stunts in ridiculous clothing. That was all in fun, the new members realized after they were admitted to the club by a formal induction.

Along with many social events for their own members, the club also sponsored activities for the entire school, such as the Christmas assembly and "surprise jump" juke box dance. Two of the outstanding activities of the year were the annual Coronade and the Sno-Ball Formal (page 49). The theme of this year's Sno-Ball Formal was "Winter Time in Central Park". During this dance, for the first time, a sno-queen was elected and crowned.

Dear Diary,

"The Inner Willy", the title of a three act comedy, was presented by the class of 1953 as their Junior play. The plot of the play revolved around impish Inner Willy, who proved himself a delightful character. Wearing a clownish felt hat and long underwear, he "popped" out of thin air "on a burp" to heckle, somewhat stuffy Willoughby into being himself.

The Senior Class presented "Love is Too Much Trouble", a farce-comedy. The unlucky Joe Burke never meant any harm — he just made mistakes and trouble poured upon him, being restricted from attending the Prom. His friends Pinky and Oggy also had troubles — no money for the Prom. Oggy mentioned he could get $200 for submitting himself as a guinea pig for a scientific experiment, but lacked the courage. As the three sank into gloom a stranger entered and they decided he would make a satisfactory substitute for the Noble Experiment.

Dear Diary,

The Camera Club of Chartiers High School is sponsored by Mr. Heil. The objectives of this club are to promote interest in photography among the students of the school and to provide them with a useful, as well as interesting, extra-curricular activity. Activities of the club include the exchange of photographic ideas, exhibitions of photographs and contests. Individual photographic work not only includes the taking of pictures, but also the developing, enlarging and printing.

Although the Camera Club holds social activities for its members, it also annually sponsors the Sadie Hawkins Dance which is open to all students.

Cheerleaders

Dear Diary,

Six attractive and neatly attired girls lead the crowds at football and basketball games and wrestling matches in hearty cheers for Chartiers. Their personal enthusiasm and team support has been a model for other students to follow and a constant incentive to our athletic squads.
